ST ALPHONSUS LIGUOURI ON AVOIDING BAD COMPANY.

Fly then from the conversation of these wicked friends. "Hedge in thy ears with thorns, hear not a wicked tongue." (Eccl. xxviii. 28.) Beware of listening to the language of such friends; their words may bring you to perdition. And when you hear them speak improperly arm yourself with thorns, and reprove them, not only for the purpose of rebuking, but also of converting them. "Ut non solum," says St. Augustine, "repellantur sed etiam compungantur." Listen to a frightful example, and learn the evil which a wicked friend does. Father Sabatino relates in his "Evangelical Light" that two friends of that kind were one day together. One of them, to please the other, committed a sin; but after they had separated he died suddenly. The other, who knew nothing of his death, saw, in his sleep, his friend, and, according to his custom, ran to embrace him. But the deceased appeared to be surrounded with, fire, and began to blaspheme the other, and to upbraid him for being the cause of his damnation. The other awoke and changed his life. But his unhappy friend was damned; and for his damnation there is not, and shall not be, any remedy for all eternity.
